about

A group or configuration of ideas, feelings, characteristics, objects, etc., that are related in some way.

Hello! I'm Mariella Gustaf, art director and designer with a BFA from Savannah College of Art & Design and an MS from Pratt Institute. Welcome to my blog, a space in which I curate all the things I like and want to share with you. More than a fashion blog, A Constellation is about celebrating an aesthetic that may take the shape of an outfit, but could also take the form of a home, a city guide or a meal, and many things in between. Through stories told with captivating imagery and honest writing, I hope this is a place where you will find design-oriented inspiration for everyday life—including fashion, travel, food, beauty, interiors, art and architecture.

A Constellation was awarded Breakthrough Fashion Blogger of the Year at the 2016 Bloglovin' x H&M Awards.

Thanks for visiting and come back soon!
